RVDT 2023

The 16th edition of The RV Debating Tournament, hosted by RV Debating Society, stands amongst the most prestigious tournaments hosted in the subcontinent. It has achieved this pinnacle on the backs of top-quality teams and adjudicators who bring to the table a gladiatorial competitive spirit. The format on which RVDTs are run is British Parliamentary (BP) Debating; the same format upon which the World Universities Debating Championship (WUDC) is built. The BP debating format consists of 4 teams in each round; the Opening Government (OG) and Closing Government (CG) from the government side who are to support the motion; and the Opening Opposition (OO) and Closing Opposition (CO) whose duty it is to oppose the motion. Of the dozens of teams that came knocking at RVDTs door for an opportunity to partake in a battle of reasoning and wit, 4 will break the Open Category and 4 will break the Novice Category for a chance at the glory of winning the tournament.

RVDT 2023 hosted participants from all over the world who flocked to the campus to compete at a shot winning the renowned RVDT Championship Trophy.

The list of participating institutes for RVDT 2023:-

- Princeton University, USA
- IIT Madras
- IIT Bombay
- IIIT Hyderabad
- Delhi Technological University(DTU), Delhi
- National Law School, Bangalore
- National University of Advanced Legal Studies (NUALS), Kochi
- Ramaiah College of Law, Bangalore
- NALSAR, Hyderabad
- Christ University, Bangalore
- PES University, Bangalore
- SIT, Tumkur
- Maharashtra National Law University(MNLU), Nagpur
- DY Patil Law School, Pune
- Deen Dayal Upadhyaya College(DDUC), Delhi

The 16th edition of RVDT Open Category was won by the team consisting of Kaustabh Jain from Princeton University and Harshavardhan Ray from National Law School in a grand final wherein the competition was a veteran open team, a team from IIT-B, and a team from DDUC. The motion debated in the Grand Final revolved around an intense discourse on Economics; it questioned the nature of the current banking regulation and explored the necessity of a narrow banking regulation.

The Novice Finals was won by PES University against a team from IIT Madras, NALSAR Hyderabad a team from SIT Tumkur. This debate was about the criminal justice system, and how new legislation and reforms can benefit society as whole.

The debates at RVDT sparked genuine discourse on a diverse range of issues contemporary, philosophical, and at times fantastical. Criminal Justice, Digital Currency, Feminism, and Morality were all debated passionately, with the discussions oftentimes spilling out of the debate rooms and living on well beyond the confines of formal debate. Opening conversations on issues that are so pertinent to society helps all parties involved develop a well-rounded understanding of not only the immediate society in which we live in, but also the world at large. This embellishment of brilliant individual debaters into extraordinary global citizens who can communicate ideas effectively will no doubt have a great impact on the course that our collective future may take.

We are incredibly grateful for the support that RV College of Engineering has provided us in regards to carrying out a successful edition of RVDT and further solidifying the reputation of RV Debating Society and RV College of Engineering in the national and international debating societies.

- Slide 2: Common Myths Related to Menstrual Hygiene
 MYTH FACT table:

During their periods, girls are impure.	Periods are just nature's way of saying you are growing up.
Girls having their periods should not cook or visit sacred places.	There is nothing impure about periods.

- Slide 3: Breaking the Taboo
 Text: "Menstruation is probably one of the least talked about and ill-understood biological concepts. Despite being a natural physiological function of the female human body, similar to urination or defecation, the menstruation discourse is often shrouded by silence. This is because a complicated network of taboos and customs surround it."
 Why is menstrual hygiene education important?
 - Lack of education about menstruation is one of the many barriers to achieving adequate menstrual hygiene worldwide.
 - Menstrual Hygiene is vital to the empowerment and well-being of women and girls worldwide. It is about more than just access to sanitary pads and appropriate toilets – though these are important. It is also about ensuring women and girls live in an environment that values and supports their ability to manage their menstruation with dignity.

- Slide 4: Polycystic Ovary Syndrome (PCOS)
 Diagram: A diagram of the female reproductive system showing the uterus and ovaries.
 Text: "It is a disorder that affects the ovaries and ovulation. It causes enlarged ovaries with small cysts on the outer edges of the ovary. Symptoms include menstrual irregularity, excess hair growth, acne and obesity. There are 3 main features- Cysts in ovaries, high levels of male hormones, irregular or skipped periods. In PCOS, many small, fluid-filled sacs grow inside the ovaries. The word 'polycystic' means 'many cysts.' PCOS affects almost 27% of the women in the age group of 15 to 44 years."

1. Village Visit:

As a part of the induction program for the 2019 batch, a two-day (7th and 8th August'19) village visit program was organised by Rotaract Club of RVCE along with NCC. The event started at 9:30 am in the morning near the New Sports Complex where all the first years were divided into 7-8 buses. Our enthusiastic team of volunteers had put in all of their ingenious efforts in making the arrangements for food, water, plants and other miscellaneous items. The buses were burgeoning with exhilarated freshmen, responsible organisers and supportive counsellors; who left the college and started off with their journey to their village with the only motto in their minds - "To Serve the Society and fulfil my duty as a responsible citizen".

2. Project Sahayata:

Invigorated by the relief reforms aimed for the Uttar Karnataka floods, it was our duty to render our services for the cause. RV College of Engineering started an initiative with Rotaract Club of RVCE, NSS, NCC and Kannada Sangha and collected materials of basic needs for the flood relief. Volunteers conducted a collection drive in all the departments and hostels of RVCE where everyone was informed about the conditions and how they can support the flood victims. RVCE received a tremendous response by collecting basic amenities both materialistically and financially. The collected items were handed over to Shelter houses and people in those villages where people have been ghastly affected. A further initiative was taken to collect fodder for the cattle present in those villages who were equally affected.
